Year 5 Class 5NL

Dear Pandas,

Hello to you all. Mrs Lindsay here! I hope you are all ok. I have been planning activities this afternoon for our learning up to half term.

I would like you to complete the learning in the order I have set it as some of the lessons follow on from one another. We will be completing the objectives that we would have completed if in school and I would like you to bring any work completed back in with your after half term.

For maths, we have 3 objectives on our 'Addition and Subtraction' unit to complete. I have uploaded work for all three objectives. Each lesson pack has a brief explanation and is then split into three levels of learning. You need to choose from the 2 or 3 star questions. Then the next day or session, complete the problem solving and reasoning activity to deepen your understanding. I have also set some My Maths work if you need anything extra. A detailed overview is at the end of this letter. I would also like you to use 'Hit the Button' website to keep those number facts both quick and accurate! <https://www.topmarks.co.uk/maths-games/hit-the-button>

For English, some tasks are already set and where it says TBC – I will add to over the weekend ready for Monday.

On some days, there will be a zoom meeting to start the day. These are noted below to give you as much time to organise access to these. It would be great to see as many of you as possible but don't worry if you are unable to attend – all of the instructions will be clear for each task. It is just a chance for me to say hello and see you all! When we do have a zoom, please make sure you are organised with paper and a pen or pencil and that you have a quiet place to work. It may also be useful to use headphones so you can hear me as clearly as possible. This is obviously new for us all – so we will have to see how it goes!

These are the initial times for the zoom calls. I will add to these over the weekend if they work well. It is the same meeting code and password for all of the meetings:

Weekly Project:

Topic – Geography: Mountains and Volcanoes

I would like you to research and produce a poster or information sheet about mountain animals and how they are adapted to surviving in their challenging environment. There is a superb BBC documentary with stunning footage which I recommend you watch:

Choose something from the Draw with Rob tutorials to draw and bring it in after half term.

Maybe complete a spelling squiggle using this week's spellings:

Thursday 15th October: Writing Task

Thursday is writing day! This week's writing focus is using relative clauses. We have been using them lots in our English books and for homework and now you need to include them into your writing.

So – today's task is to first design your own 'freakshake'. There are examples below. I would like you to design your own and then write about it using relative clauses. Use the blank cup to design yours and then write your sentences. It can be as creative and even as magical as you like. I have started a description as an example. Your writing should describe each layer using relative clauses. I realise this is a mouth-watering challenge and if you have the ingredients to hand maybe you could make your own version as a reward once you have completed your writing...yum! You can complete your writing on the computer or as a written piece.

You must remember:

- Your relative clauses must start with: that, which, whose, whom, who (however as you are describing an object you will need to stick to just that and which)
- They must be punctuated with either dashes, brackets or commas.
- Your sentence must still make sense without the embedded clause.
- Please circle your relative pronouns in your writing so they are clear to spot. Try to use at least 3 in your writing.

Blank design:

See if you can guess which one I am describing:

The bottom layer, which is sticky toffee sauce, makes a delicious start to my creation. The ice-cream, that has popping candy hidden inside, swirls around the middle caramel and chocolate layer.

Keep your writing safe and bring it in after half term.
